AMUSEMENTS.

There is a very fine program at the Dixie tonight consisting of a powerful and gripping Selig special, "In the House of the Chief," in which Eugene Besserer, Vivian Reed and an excellent cast are featured. In addition to this there is a fine Vitagraph comedy, "Making An Impression." This bill will be shown from 6:30 this evening until 11 o'clock.

At the Queen.

"Wonderful" is a mild way of describing the beautiful attraction, "The Upheaval," which is being shown at the Queen this afternoon and tonight. The stars in this beautiful production, Lionel Barrymore and Marguerite Skirvin, need no introduction, as their wonderful performances in "The Quilter" and "The Yellow Streak" are well remembered, and this production promises to entirely surpass their previous efforts. Our advice is see "The Upheaval" tonight.

A PIONEER VISITOR.

F. W. McGee of Mesa, Grimes county, was a visitor in Bryan today and was the guest of his old friend, Gen. H. B. Stoddard. Mr. McGee is one of the Texas pioneers and was born in the state 71 years ago. He said his friends were a little apprehensive about his trip over to the Brazos county capital, but that he had placed himself under the wing of his old friend, Gen. Stoddard, and felt sure of keeping out of the calaboose. Mr. McGee is in fine health and very active for a man of his age.

Wilson Faced a Busy Day at Summer White House Today Also Made Speech to Independent Voters.

Longbranch, Oct. 7.—President Wilson returned home this morning from his western trip and faced a busy day at the summer white house. The program included a speech to the Progressive and Independent voters. It was considered possible that either today or later the president would refer again to the settlement of the recently threatened railroad strike however he authoritatively stated that he had taken the position that congress and he was not coerced into the settlement because neither side had asked for legislation on the other hand he said he intervened after both sides had made it plain that they were ready for a strike.
